

Einhorn – The Chase
Single, digital 2.11.2018

Do you know what happens if you're watching 80's movies while writing new songs? The answer is the new single from the Band EINHORN which is based on the Charlie Sheen movie with the same title „The Chase“. To admit it was a b-movie which wasn't celebrated by most of the reviewer. But therefore it is remarkable that Einhorn manages to transfer the basic idea of the movie to the new song in a calm and epic atmosphere. So Einhorn is presenting themselves in a new way and proves that they're not only domiciled in the Happy-Song realm. The Song remembers a little bit on the german alternative to Electric Youth and is rounded down with a fulminant guitarsolo. Dreamfully adorable.
